◆ Complimentary E-course

Julie 1: Learning Heat Control / Christmas Decorations

You will be automatically enrolled in this foundational E-course.

This course introduces essential principles of heat control — the foundation of all successful flameworking. It is designed to develop sensitivity, control, and confidence at the torch. You will find your course here: LINK

The system will recognise you once you have logged in. Simply click on your E-course and watch the demos.

Alongside the course, you will receive:

- Structured downloadable learning materials
- Demonstration transcriptions and visual guides
- Reference documents (including punty types, kiln cycles, and process notes)
- Example imagery to guide your outcomes

Following the start of your membership, you will also receive a 15-minute Focus Session with Dr Julie, offering individual feedback and direction based on your progress: LINK

Control is not forced — it is observed, understood, and refined.

◆ Torchlight & Tonic

Complimentary Monthly Members' Gathering

As part of your Silver Membership, you receive complimentary access to Torchlight & Tonic — relaxed monthly members-only online gatherings designed to support continuity, conversation, and connection within the ZGS community.

These sessions are typically around one hour long and usually take place on Sundays, allowing members from different countries and time zones to gather together in an informal and supportive environment.

Sessions may include:

- Live demonstrations
- Technique breakdowns
- Open discussion and Q&A
- Artistic and professional conversation
- Community connection with fellow glassmakers worldwide

Conversations occasionally extend into wider aspects of artistic practice, including exhibiting, presenting work professionally, pricing, and occasional opportunities connected to the wider ZGS community and exhibition presence.

Torchlight & Tonic is intentionally informal in tone — a space to pause, reflect, ask questions, and remain connected to the rhythm of making between courses and independent studio practice.

Progress happens in rhythm — not in isolation.

◆ Focus Sessions

One-to-one guidance sits at the centre of the Zurich Glass School learning model.

Your 15-minute Focus Session with Dr Julie is designed to identify where you are, where you are going, and what is needed to move forward with clarity.

These sessions provide:

- Focused, practical feedback
- Support with technique and process
- Direction tailored to your individual development

Additional sessions can be booked as needed and E-courses and E-demos also come with a complimentary Focus Session.

These are not rushed interactions — they are precise, responsive, and grounded in your practice.

◆ Community

Private ZGS Members' Group

A supportive space to:

- Share your work
- Ask questions
- Learn from others
- Stay connected to the wider ZGS community

This is an extension of the studio — a place for both progress and process.

The studio does not end when the torch is turned off.

◆ Terms & Membership Notes

- Minimum membership period: 1 year
- Membership must be active at the start of any booked course
- If membership has expired, standard course pricing applies

As your engagement develops, many students naturally move beyond Silver Membership.

If you find yourself taking more than two courses per year, it is often more appropriate — both practically and financially — to move to Platinum Membership, which is designed to support a higher level of ongoing study.

◆ Closing Note

Your development will come through observation, patience, and repeated practice.

Silver Membership provides the structure, guidance, and access — the rest is built at the torch.
